

Celebrate Olympics with AVJennings

TO celebrate the opening of the 2008 Olympic Games, AVJennings Developments are giving away a 42 inch HD Panasonic Plasma television, pictured below, with the sale of each home package in the Parkview Collection at Pathways, Murray Bridge.

The Parkview Collection, a quality group of eight AVJennings home packages, is currently available, with construction well underway.

The majority of homes are scheduled for completion in September and are all located on Parkview Drive, across the road from the estate's central reserve and playground area - an absolute haven for children and families.

This exciting new promotion is valid for a limited time and exclusive to those who contract sign one of the homes in the Parkview Collection from today until the end of September 2008.

AVJennings' most popular designs have been selected in the Parkview Collection.

Designs include three or four bedrooms, two bathrooms, double garage, high ceilings and so much more.

These complete home packages start at $297,100.

AVJennings executive general manager Peter Jackson said the Parkview Collection was a hassle-free opportunity for home buyers to purchase a quality home in an area which offers a fantastic lifestyle.

"These home packages will sell as soon as construction is complete," he said.

However, we urge interested buyers to get in early for best selection."

The homes are open for inspection every Sunday from 2pm to 3pm.
